To: Your Honor and the Courts of Missouri

I am the mother of Darryl Moore. First, I want to apologize to you Judge and the Courts for even being here. As a mother, I have had to face one of my worst fears and that is losing my son to the streets or jail. If anyone had ever told me I would be in this position now, I would not believe it. I love my son, he is not perfect, but he is very respectful, honest, loving, hardworking, and caring person who was raised to be all of the above. My son has a gift with his hands, he can fix and repair almost anything.

I made sure my children were both educated, Darryl has a certificate in HVAC and both of my children are God-fearing individuals. My son has two daughters, one age seven (whom he shares joint custody) and the second daughter is one year old who he has yet to hold or hug. Darryl is a loving, caring father and we are praying that he can get back to their lives and upbringing. He is a loving brother to his only sister and a wonderful loving son to me. Our entire family misses him tremendously, especially me. Being separated from my son has nearly killed me. Being a woman of faith, I'm prayerful, I pray for strength every day. I work in the community helping others, a trait that Darryl has acquired, he has always helped others from a very young age. He would always help little children cross the street from school to keep them safe from traffic when he was younger, when he worked for other people he never overcharged for his work, often working for seniors free of charge.

My son's actions which got him here are not of him. In life, sometimes, people get off the track - I assure you that my son, Darryl Lennell Moore II regrets all the errors of his ways, that has caused us to be here today. I humbly ask and pray that you your honor have mercy on my son. Please return him to his family, children, and me. We miss him so much; he is a child of God and sometimes the Lord allows things to happen to redirect one's focus. I'm sure Darryl has learned his lesson and I'm sure you will never see him in Court again.

I am asking, please have mercy on my child, my only son. I thank you for your time reading my statement and your consideration.

Respectfully,

Marlene Terry (Mother)

To: Honorable Judge Ronnie L. White of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri

It is without hesitation that I write to you on behalf of Darryl Moore. I first met this young man years ago when he was a freshman in high school. As an educator and school administrator, I immediately recognized the potential in Darryl that needed to be encouraged and cultivated. This was something that was embraced by the team of individuals that worked with him throughout high school, largely due in part, to the added support and collaboration coming from his home environment. Mrs. Terry was, and still is, a very involved parent and this caused persons like myself to work hard on Darryl's behalf as he did have some learning disabilities. Despite the challenges he faced academically, he seemed to always be in good spirits and willing to participate.

We were all so proud of him when he graduated high school and made the decision to study a trade and become an HVAC technician. My interactions with him entered into a new phase of friendship as we often made service calls to him regarding heating and cooling issues for multiple rental properties that my wife and I owned. It was during these interactions that I observed Darryl's true character. He was always punctual, completed work in a timely manner, and I don't recall a single instance of him ever calling to reschedule an appointment. Darryl could be trusted to enter unoccupied and occupied apartments without supervision and without tenants being home. It was not unusual for us to trust him with the keys to our properties as he consistently demonstrated responsible behaviors. Our tenants often reported that he cleaned up after himself so well that they were unsure that he had even come to service the unit. More importantly, his work was quality work that he guaranteed and we never had cause for dispute.

When my career in education called for me to travel and eventually maintain a second residence out of state, it was Darryl that we turned to for property management. Again, he did not disappoint and he grew in this role as it often times took him out of his element. He handily disposed of those challenges and took pride in his learning. At his core, this is the man who Darryl Moore is. I am certain that he is the victim of the human condition and compulsion to take short cuts that leaves one open to make poor choices, a condition which afflicts most of us at some point.

For these reasons, I can confirm that Darryl is deserving of leniency and a sentence of time served. Gainful employment, lodging, and transportation await him upon his release, and thereby significantly decreases the likelihood of him repeating the mistakes of the past.

Your Honor, I thank you in advance for your careful consideration of this matter.

Humbly submitted,

Dr. Christopher Petty

Dear Sir,

Please accept this letter as a request for consideration of leniency for Darryl Moore. I have known Darryl since he was a child; my son and he played AAU basketball on the same team. We formed a friendship with his family. He is a decent young man, skilled painter and carpenter. As an adult, he was very caring and came to assist me when my husband was dying of cancer. He did many chores for me during a difficult time. I know about his life and his struggles: I truly believe he just got caught up and will turn his life around if given a second chance. I am a retired teacher and school administrator, from Ferguson Florissant School District. Being a public school educator over thirty three years, I have seen the perils and problems of many young people. I never gave up on them and I believe that given a chance I have seen many redeem themselves. I was a Director of an Alternative School for five districts and worked with the juvenile courts as many of them were under the courts jurisdiction. It's hard to see the young people struggle with so many easy way outs that end in ruining their adult lives.

I hope that you will ask the judge to consider that Darryl has not been in trouble before. He is a skilled worker and high school graduate with some college. He had a career in carpentry and home maintenance. I believe he will turn his life around now and realizes there is no easy way only a honest way to make a living.

Please consider leniency so that he can resume his proven work ethic and be a responsible parent and son.

I believe wholeheartedly that Darryl will redeem himself and prove that he is worthy of a second chance.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Howard M.S Ed.

To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Darryl Moore all of his life and I have nothing but positive things to say. His family and I have been neighbors for over fifty years. Darryl grew up in a loving supportive family where hard work and education was expected.

He was baptized at an early age and joined Olivet Missionary Baptist Church where he's still currently a member. Darryl was educated in the Riverview Garden School District.

He's a hard working and a dedicated father to his children. He would like nothing more that to have the opportunity to be a hands-on part of their life and provide for them.

Sometime we make bad choices in life that is not indicative of our upbringing or character. I'm sure that he has learned from those mistakes and if he's given a chance he will be a much better person in the future.

Sincerely,

Julia M. Hamilton

To whom it may concern,

Darryl Moore is a great young man who showed his team spirit and wiliness to help others from the beginning. After interviewing Mr. Moore for a temp position and having him on the job for a few weeks I moved to have him hired permanently because I felt that he would be an asset to the company and the property. He always showed up to work ready to work, went about his duties at time to assist where needed which showed his ability to be a great leader. Well spoken young man, respected the residents on the property as they respected him as well as they appreciated him for the work that he done.

While working Darryl his personality was down to earth and genuine. He appreciated and accepted the acknowledgement and praise from the residents and other staff members for his hard work. He never displayed a bad attitude, always had a smile coming and leaving work. Working with someone 5 days a week 8 hours a day you start to look at them like family and that's how we were in the leasing office at Primm Place " Family".
